TAX INCENTIVES

Supporting Business Development at COS

- Tax abatements, tax credits, monetary incentives
- Colorado Springs Airport provides tax credits and performance-based incentive programs through the City of Colorado Springs, El Paso County, Pikes Peak Rural Transportation Authority (PPRTA), and the State of Colorado.

Commercial Aeronautical Zone (CAZ)

COS is located within a regionally created CAZ, which provides significant tax incentives for aeronautical businesses. For companies located within the CAZ, significant local sales and use tax may be abated for those specifically engaged in a variety of aeronautical activities. The majority of sales and use tax on construction materials used to construct facilities in support of aviation users may also be refunded.

Enterprise Zone (EZ)

The EZ was created by Colorado Legislature to promote a business-friendly environment in economically distressed areas by offering state income tax credits. Taxpayers investing in EZs can earn these credits by planning and executing specific economic development activities.

Foreign Trade Zone (FTZ)

COS offers over 1,000 acres of registered U.S. FTZ property. Key benefits of the FTZ are duty referral, duty reduction and duty avoidance for the transfer, use and storage of imported materials. No Customs duties are paid on merchandise exported from the zone, value of labor, overhead or profit attributed to production and operations in the zone.

Opportunity Zone (OZ)

Investors can defer and potentially reduce or eliminate taxation on capital gains by making timely investments in the Airport Opportunity Zone.
